Elementary teachers, school board reach tentative agreement

Elementary school teachers in the Trillium Lakelands District have reached a tentative agreement with the school board, after months of negotiations between the two sides.

"We're really pleased," said Cheryl Murdoch, chair of the Trillium Lakelands District School Board. "I think both sides are pleased that we have reached an agreement."

After two and a half days of concentrated and intensive negotiations, a tentative agreement was reached on October 30.

This is the last elementary agreement to be sought, and according to Murdoch, the school board is hoping the Trillium Lakelands Teachers can ratify the agreement prior to the school board meeting in Bracebridge on November 9.

The Trillium Lakelands members number some 740 full and part time teachers in Victoria, Haliburton and Muskoka. The group has been without a contract since 1998, and had voted in October to support a strike mandate if these negotiations failed.

No details of the agreement will be available until after the ratification vote, which is scheduled for some time this week.

HHHS prepared for Y2K problems

Haliburton Highlands Health Services has a draft contingency plan for Y2K (Year 2000). The Board is in the process of fine tuning the plan, which will be submitted to the Ministry of Health.

Board chair Dave Coulson pointed out that there could be some liability to the Board, as well as its members, if it did not prepare a contingency plan.

"There is the potential for some real problems," he said.

The draft was prepared using the OHA (Ontario Hospitals Association) plan as a guide, so it has to be pared down to suit the local situation.

Preparations for Y2K will begin in earnest 72 hours before the Year 2000 changeover. Precautions will be taken at specific intervals leading up to midnight on December 31, 1999.

Both local hospitals will stock up with fuel, food and medical supplies.

Team leaders have been appointed to solve problems if they arise. As the countdown progresses, people will be ready for assignment as necessary.

Emergency generators are in place and tested.

All medical devices have been tested and have been certified as Y2K compliant.

All but the newest of computers are being replaced to assure there will be no problems.

"We have to be prepared for the worst case scenario," said Foster Loucks, executive director of HHHS.

Coulson noted that it must be made clear to the public that the hospitals are there to assist people who are sick or injured and not drop-in centres for the general public.

"We're making the point to municipalities and everyone else that the hospitals won't be everything to everybody," Loucks noted. "We're communicating with municipalities to clear up the areas of responsibility and preparedness on both counts.

Board member Ted Wilkes suggested that the contractor should be advised to be prepared and have the construction at a level that can easily be interrupted without causing any hardships, should there be a Y2K related problem.

The general consensus among board members was that the hospitals are ready for any problems which may arise.

Board member Ross Davies summed it up when he said, "A great deal of work has been done. I think we are well prepared."

Frost Centre and hunt camp teach pros and cons of hunting

by Ariel White

A neighbourly gesture a decade ago has resulted in education and information sharing with over one thousand students of all ages. The Frost Centre and members of the Halls Lake hunt camp have been working together to provide information on hunting and hunter safety in the hopes of educating people about hunting and wildlife and the misconceptions associated with hunting.

"We're not out to recruit new hunters," said Barrie Martin, who teaches some of the sport hunting courses at the Frost Centre. "We're here to educate students about hunting and wildlife."

The sport hunting program is one of many available to the student and other groups who visit the centre, and is run at the request of a group. This week, a group of grade six students from East Oro Public School visited the Frost Centre and participated in the program.

At the beginning of the course, students are asked if they are for or against sport hunting, or if they are undecided. Martin stressed that this is not an exercise in promoting hunting, but rather to provide information on the subject, in order to make an informed opinion. The group works through an in class portion, where students discuss the importance of wildlife, why and what people hunt, the rules of hunting, and the Ministry of Natural Resources role in sport hunting. They review the types of animals that are hunted and the seasons in which they can be killed. They also tour the centre's gun range.

From there, the group heads to Pine Springs, where the Frost Centre has set up a hunter safety training trail, to demonstrate some of the safety techniques needed for good hunting. The trail, which was white and frosty with snow for the East Oro students, provides several obstacles and situations, where sound judgement and common sense must prevail.

Students come across silhouettes of various animals and must determine if that animal is in season, within firing range and if it is in a safe location to fire. As well, obstructions such as a water hole, a fence and no hunting signs are discussed to assess the best and safest way to get around.

East Oro Group Leader Anne South was impressed with the program. She felt it presented her students with the all of the information they would need to make a decision on whether they were for or against sport hunting. "It's an interesting approach to the topic," said South.

SAFE COURSE OF ACTION: Barrie Martin of the Frost centre discusses the safety practices involved in sport hunting to a group of grade six students, decked out in their blaze orange safety vests, from East Oro Public School, on the Sport Hunting Training Trail in Pine Springs. This course, along with a trip to the Halls Lake Hunt Camp, is designed to inform students of all sides involved in hunting and the rules, regulations and etiquette involved in hunting. At this station on the trail, students are asked to determine if this would be a safe situation to attempt to shoot the grouse in front of them.

Although for many groups, the program ends with the hunter safety training trail, for a few fortunate groups who travel to the Frost Centre during moose and deer hunting season, they may experience life in a working-hunt camp.

The Halls Lake camp was built in 1933, and although it now houses 24 men each hunting season, it has also invited student groups in, numbering over one thousand over the past decade.

Doug Butts leads the camp. He explained that about ten years ago, Frost Centre staff member Ron Pittaway, who usually runs the sport hunting program, had a group to instruct, but had to contend with rainy conditions. Instead of trekking through the woods on a rainy day, he brought the group to the Halls Lake camp, and an open invitation to visit each season was made.

"My family has been hunting in Haliburton for generations," said Butts, who has traced his ancestors to the area back to the 1830's. Butts has been hunting for 45 years and carefully explained to the students, why he enjoys hunting and why he feels it is an important part of wildlife habitat maintenance.

The students asked Butts many candid questions, about tracking, dressing and killing the deer or moose, as well as the name of his beagle. They toured the large camp, which unlike many, affords the luxury of electricity and a butcher shack for dressing the animals. The rules of the camp were explained, such as the sharing of all meat, the cleaning of all firearms and others. There are also many animals on display, as some of the members of the camp are taxidermists. Most if not all of the students were not impressed with the thought of a 5:30 a.m. wake up call however.

Barrie Martin feels that this camp is of great value to the course, as it brings a sense of reality to the program. It is an efficient, well run camp that provides ample room for large groups and the hunters who stay at the facility are open and willing to answer any and all questions the students might offer up.

They also had an opportunity to see some of the deer already brought back to camp and dressed. Barrie Martin showed them the animals, and explained why they were hanging from a height, what the tags signified and what the sex of the animals were. The students' reactions to these animals were mixed, with some being genuinely interested and others just "grossed out".

Butts said that he has enjoyed speaking with the students over the years, because regardless of their thoughts on the practice of sport hunting, it was important to educate the students on the bush and the wildlife within, as they "...are the future stewards."

Lest we forget Remembrance Day

A sky blue Air Force flag flies proudly over Syd Adamson's house in Lutterworth Township, a reminder of his time in the Royal Canadian Air Force; the time he spent in England during World War Two; and of those who did not return.

This November 11, Remembrance Day, Adamson, along with other members of the Royal Canadian Legion, soldiers past and present and Canadians across the nation will take two minutes out of their hectic schedules to reflect on the profound loss in the last century of war, as we head into the next millennium.

Syd Adamson, originally from Longueuil Quebec, joined the forces in 1941 and became an air gunner. "It was the glory in that day, to be in the Air Force," he said. "I guess I thought it would be cleaner up in the air than it would be on the ground."

He was sent to Paulson, Manitoba for training at the gunnery school, although no one he has run into has ever heard of the place. "It was a short course there because there were no real facilities here for training," said Adamson. Upon completion of the training in Manitoba, by Christmas Day he had landed in Liverpool England. "When we arrived in Liverpool, there were a lot of ships below water there," said Adamson.

From Liverpool, he was sent to Bournemouth, to a waiting facility, for additional training, until he was sent into action at the bomber command in Lincolnshire. "Then you were either flying on an operation that night or day or you had a day off now and then," said Adamson, who noted that the large majority of his flights were over Germany, but he also flew over Milan, Italy and one run to Norway, looking for a submarine. After each run, intelligence officers would grill Adamson and his crew for any information about the mission. "They wanted to know about anything unusual that they could use," he said, such as the number of German planes shot down, their numbers and if anyone had ejected and parachuted to the ground.

After countless operations and a stint teaching gunnery, Adamson was lucky enough to be sent home for six weeks in 1943. At that time, Canadian airmen were allowed time off before returning to operations. "Which was nice to come home and see the family," said Adamson.

When he returned, he was sent to Yorkshire, to join the 434 Squadron. He knew some of the members of this new crew, as they had traveled together on their return to England. Some of those men, he has not seen since 1946. "I imagine we have all changed a little," he said. Adamson finally returned home in April of 1945.

Syd Adamson, and his wife Lois have lived in Haliburton County since 1982, after working for Revenue Canada for 30 years. For a brief time, they ran Jay Lake Trailer Park, but retired after six years, to what Adamson calls "non paying jobs", speaking of his volunteer work with the Minden 636 branch of the Royal Canadian Legion. Adamson is this year's poppy campaign chair, which means a lot of leg work, but he feels it is worth it. "It does a lot of good. It has helped the hospital here in the past," he said. Adamson noted that the Minden Legion has raised over $8,000 from poppy donations, in the last two years.

The Minden Legion held its Remembrance Day ceremony on November 7 this year, but Adamson will join the Minden colour party for the ceremony in Haliburton on the 11th. Undoubtedly, when the bugle sounds the Last Post, and the two minutes of silence is observed, Adamson will be one of many to take time to think of those days in England and the many missions in which he participated.

Last October we had desert conditions, this October we had the monsoons. The Average temperature for the month was 7 C (44.6 F), which is 1.4 C cooler than last October. Probably due to the wet weather.

There were 12 mornings with frost, and October 7 was the coldest. On the other end of the scale, October 30 was the warmest day at 22.5 C. Lots of rain, heaviest on October 12, 13 and 22. Over the month we had four inches and last October we had only one. No snow this October or last October. But October 97 we had 31 cm (12 inches) of the stuff.

POPPY CHAIRMAN: Veteran Syd Adamson was the 1999 Poppy Chairman of the Minden Legion Branch 636. He has been a member of the Royal Canadian Legion for 29 years.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

In this last year of this century of wars, The Royal Canadian Legion invites you to participate in a special tribute to Canada's war dead. The "2 Minute Wave of Silence" is a Legion Millennium Event designed to enable Canadians to stand in silent tribute to those gallant men and women at 11 a.m. local time on 11 November. As the clock strikes 11 a.m. in the six time zones, take a short break to honour those whose minutes on this earth ended so early. The effect will be a "Wave of Silence" rolling from coast to coast. Join the wave and make this Remembrance Day a living memory for all who participate.

'Tis the season to be hunting

There's a chill in the air and many of the local businesses are missing a few employees. In fact, a few businesses are closed down completely. It's not because of illness, although some of those people absent from work may be suffering from an affliction called "buck fever."

The annual deer hunt is in full swing and a good portion of the population of The Highlands is participating in a tradition that has been handed down from generation to generation. Hunting is part of our heritage and it is an activity for which nobody should feel obliged to apologize. After all, the vast majority of the population is still omnivorous. For most, at least one meal each day includes a meat dish. For some of us, if that meat dish happens to be venison, moose, bear, ruffed grouse or Canada goose, all the better. We don't have to be concerned that the wild game on the plate has been force fed in a tiny pen to produce tender veal or injected with hormones to stimulate growth.

And if we happened to harvest the table fare using our own woods savvy, it adds a little extra to the meal knowing that we have provided some nourishment for our families like our forefathers (and foremothers?) did before us.

Granted, hunting is not for everyone. Some would prefer to leave the killing, dressing, cutting and packaging to the butcher. That's fine. There wouldn't be room in the woods for everybody anyway.

Many people, it seems, don't understand why anyone would want to hunt when they could buy their meat at a grocery store or butcher shop. After all, a side of beef would cost less than most hunters invest in equipment and supplies to hunt for a week. And there is no guarantee that there will be game for the table.

There is more to hunting than the harvest of game. It is the outdoors experience that draws most hunters afield. It's one thing to go for a hike in the woods to observe nature and another experience altogether to go afield in search of game — to be the predator.

Some would argue that Mother Nature didn't give us the ingrained skills to hunt and put us at the top of the food chain without good reason.

So, before you non-hunters are too critical of those of us who do enjoy the hunt, consider that the leather shoes, belts and hand bags that you wear and carry were once living, breathing animals. If you can justify the use of those products, how can you criticize those who harvest their own?

Christmas bonus a turkey

Editor:

Things have been going rather smooth in Laxton, Digby, Longford council meetings for the last three months. Everyday problems of local government have been handled, in my opinion, in an efficient business-like manner. Bills have been paid, properties acquired, letters acknowledges, fund raisers supported and so on.

However, today's meeting had one item I strongly disagree with. A motion was made to supply all municipal employee's with a Christmas turkey. The recorded vote showed: For, Diebel, Robertson and White. Against: Dunnett and Macklem.

This will cost us, the payers, about $1000 of our tax dollars. This method of Christmas bonus or reward had been followed in years past. During the last few years it has been disapproved of and I thought put to bed. What has changed? Now, you say, so what! This is small potatoes in the grander scheme of things.

I disagree with giving turkeys to any municipal employee. I don't feel council should be donating my tax dollars to their own employees. I did not elect them to support the local "fowl market." Corporations or business that make profits and choose to share them with their active and retired employee's is another matter. The cost of the gift comes out of the profit line of the establishment. Where is the profit line of any local government organization? Their method of raising funds is to levy them from us, the taxpayers. I am sure there are people living in our municipality who are in far more desperate financial straits than our employees. Who is going to buy their turkey?

Another motion of Council voted a two per cent wage increase, effective November 1, 1999, for all municipal employees. I support this motion. It has been a few years since their last general wage increase and it is in line with current wage settlements. This is the proper way to reward people for good and loyal performance. Pass on your concern or agreement to your elected officials. Let them know what you think.

What's wrong with the rights of children?

Editor:

Last week Doug Hindson asked the school board to not allow students to hold a vote on which rights they feel are the most important to them. The rights that they are voting on are hardly controversial — the right to education, family, protection from harm among others.

What is at the issue is the idea of young people having rights. Many men were scared when women started asking for rights. It took many years for things to change and most

(more on page 8)

Thanks to teachers

Editor:

I want to say thank God for teachers! I know change is hard for some people, especially for myself. We as people, need to think more positively about things in life! To not see the negative side of things, but more of the positive!

The school is trying protect the children not keep out the parents. The teachers, principals, and everyone make mistakes!

If you have a problem call the school and talk to someone about it. Don't bad mouth them!

Internet not always accurate

Editor:

Recently an article was picked off the Internet stating "Anti-perspirants are the leading cause of breast cancer." The woman that passed this information to me was very upset. I asked her the source, e.g. the Canadian Cancer Society or the American Cancer Society, or some medical journal of note. There was no source quoted.

On October 29, I phoned the Canadian Cancer Society Information number (1-888-939-3333) to get this information confirmed or denied. I was told the following.

"The Internet article stating that Anti-perspirants are the leading cause of breast cancer is a myth. On May 21, 1999, off the website of the American Cancer Society is an article rebutting the electronic mail breast cancer myth. It quotes the e-mail from the Internet and rebuts it point by point."

I will be receiving a copy of this article from the Canadian Cancer Society in the mail. If you are concerned, you too can obtain a copy by calling the society. They will only do mailings to the persons who call them direct.

It might be timely here to remind those who use the Internet to never take information as accurate and/or true without first checking it with an authority in the subject, in this case the Canadian Cancer Society.

Poppies bring peace not war

Editor:

Last night on the news I heard of a group of women who are distributing white poppies "Poppies for Peace". They believe that red poppies glorify war.

Maybe they don't know about Flanders Fields, "Where poppies grow between the crosses row on row." I don't believe the Royal Canadian Legion wants to glorify war. I think they want us only to remember their fallen comrades, 66,573 in WWI and 44,027 in WWII, 516 in Korea. They want us to remember because they were there; they saw them fall and die while they live on to relive the horror.

Poppies glorify war? No. Talk to a war vet. They don't glorify the death and destruction that war brings. They do cherish the memories of comrades they lost.

The airport lounge act

So where have you been in the last eleven years?

It's a funny question. Your first instinct is to say oh, I dunno, let's see, um...Hamilton...and last summer I went up north to the cottage...

Then you start to think: eleven years...that's all the way back to 1988. And when you start really listing all the places you've been, you realize why they call Canucks the most restless people in the world.

Take me. In the last eleven years I have been to Albuquerque and Abbotsford; Whitehorse and Tuscany; Seattle, Regina, Quebec City, Fort MacMurray, Winnipeg, Santa Fe, Watrous, Geneva, Thunder Bay, St. John, St. John's, and Fort St. John.

I'd have some serious frequent flyer air miles if I hadn't blown them all on that trip to Italy.

Point is, I've been around in the past eleven years. Not like Sir Alfred. For the past eleven years, Sir Alfred has been to....

Charles de Gaulle airport.

That's it. Sir Alfred has spent more than a decade sleeping on passenger lounge couches and eating fast food at Paris' main airport. For eleven years he's listened to flight announcements, squinted under fluorescent lights and lugged all his worldly possessions around with him in a borrowed baggage cart.

There is, as you may have suspected, a story behind all this. It started, as near as anyone can tell, when a chap named Mehran Karimi Nasseri, (Sir Alfred's real moniker) caught a flight out of Tehran, one step ahead of a vengeful government. He was heading for Paris by a roundabout route, touching down first at Amsterdam, then Berlin, and finally Charles de Gaulle International.

Everything was going swell until the customs agent looked up at Nasseri and said "Votre passeport, s'il vous plait."

The guy didn't have one. Neither did he have a birth certificate, a driver's licence, or even a library card. The customs agent said the French equivalent of "Sorry, Jack, you're not coming in here."

So Nasseri trudged back up the ramp to the main airport holding tank and took a seat. That was in 1988. He's been there ever since. His big Charlie Chaplin eyes, walrus moustache and regal demeanour inspired airport workers to dub him Sir Alfred, and, as they learned his story, to eventually take pity on him. They started dropping off free coffee. A croissant from time to time. A baggage handler slipped a spare key to Nasseri, enabling him to nip into the staff washroom for a quick shave and a shower. Flight attendants made a point of dropping off newspapers and magazines whenever they passed by.

"An informal network of supporters grew up around him" says Phillippe Bargain, the chief of medical services at Charles de Gaulle Airport. "Some people gave him books, and I brought him a radio so he could follow the news."

Nasseri had it about as cushy as it can get for a terminal Terminal resident, but the one thing he didn't have was...permission to leave. Iran wouldn't take him back. The British refused him sanctuary. Germany, the Netherlands, Austria — all refused to grant him refugee status — or even travel documents. Nasseri was stuck on standby. Apparently forever.

Until last month. The French government, possibly embarrassed and certainly under pressure from the media coverage Nasseri was generating, relented and granted the man a French residence card.

That means that after eleven years, Nasseri can now go through customs, catch the number 11 downtown bus...and start a new life.

You have to wonder about the perversity of a bureaucracy that would stonewall a man for more than a decade, then shrug, stamp a piece of paper and waive him through.

The irony is, Mehran Karimi Nasseri, aka Sir Alfred, has accepted the ticket to freedom, but declined the offer to leave the airport. At least for now.

"I don't really know what I'll be doing," says Nasseri, "but what is certain is that I'm now free to come and go as I please."

But will he? I keep thinking about Aunt Margaret's canary. I came to her house once for lunch and noticed the canary's cage door, wide open. Quick as a wink, I jumped up and slammed it shut before the bird got out.

Aunt Margaret laughed. "You don't have to worry about Tweetie" she said. "He's been in that cage so long he's terrified to leave."

Fly, Sir Alfred, fly. Before it's too late.

Driver suffers serious injuries

The following report was compiled from information from the Haliburton Highlands Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

MVCs

On October 27, the Haliburton Highlands Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated a single motor vehicle collision on Livingston Lake Road in McClintock Township north of Dorset.

The vehicle, a Dodge Stealth, driven by John Anderson, 32 of Baysville, was traveling northbound on Livingston Lake Road. The vehicle went into the north ditch, rolled and ended up in the south ditch. The driver was transported to Sunnybrook Hospital, where he remains with serious back injuries.

Two passengers in the vehicle, Dale Jackson, 32, and Heather Williamson, 32, both of Bracebridge, sustained minor injuries. The investigation is continuing and alcohol is believed to be a factor.

Stolen ATV found in USA

Haliburton OPP have received information that an all-terrain vehicle, stolen from a residence in Glamorgan Township, has been recovered in Pickens County in Georgia.

The 1989 Suzuki four wheeler was stolen from a residence on Concession seven in Glamorgan in 1995. It is unknown at this time how the ATV was transported to the USA or if the individual found with the property had been directly involved with the theft.

SUCCESSFUL DEMO: The Honda DS 650 prototype was a popular attraction at the Prentice Power Sports Traxter demo on October 30. Honda representative Randy Price (right) was impressed by the fact that a few Traxters were sold on the spot. If the DS 650 had been available, several units could have been sold. Prentice Power Sports representatives seen here with the DS 650 are Tom Ecclestone, left, and Paul Prentice.

Kawartha High School Football

Juniors down TAS 27-0 to earn a shot at Crestwood

by Jerry Grozelle

Tuesday's Junior football semifinal set the stage for the showdown the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Red Hawks wanted. The Red Hawks played host to the Thomas A. Stewart Secondary School Griffins in what turned out to be a mud bowl with the steady, all-day downpour.

The Hal High team had to eliminate the Griffins to advance to the Kawartha final and the most likely opponent would be the Crestwood Mustangs. Those two teams tangled the Friday before in Haliburton, with the Mustangs going back to Peterborough with a 14-7 win.

The Red Hawks made it clear they were not going to let the Griffins stand in their way. Haliburton trampled the TAS team 27-0, earning a shot at the Mustangs.

Jamie Doan scored three touchdowns and Travis Bain went into the TAS end zone with one. Ryan Hutson kicked three converts.

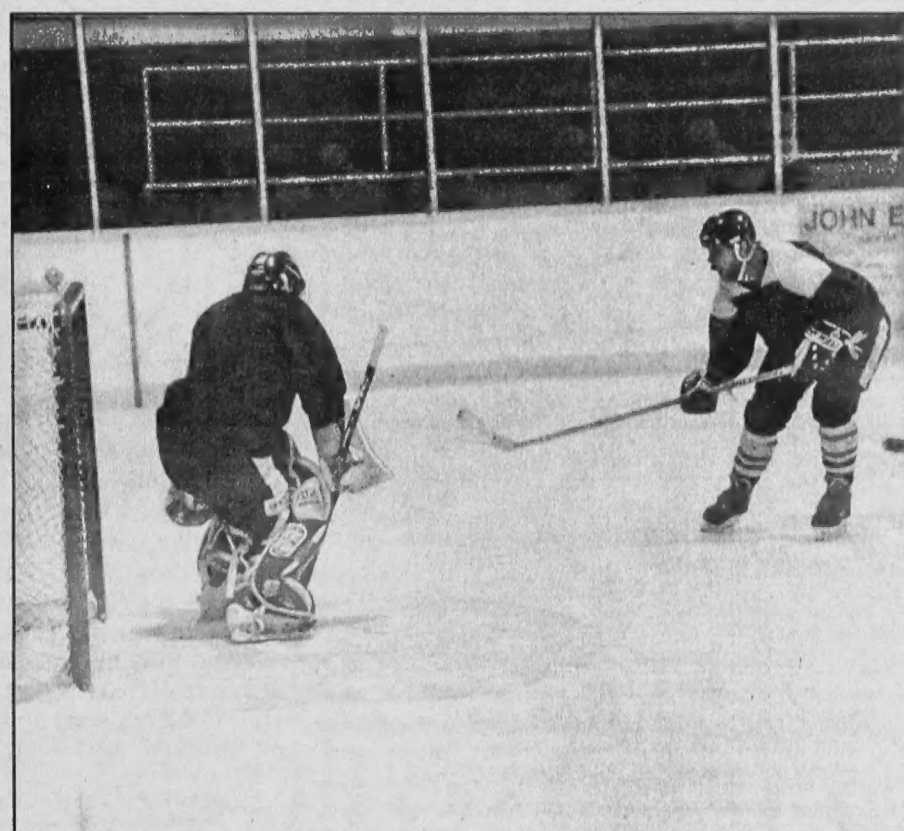

Coach Bruce Griffith wouldn't centre out any one player, saying, "the whole team played an excellent game."

One member of the Red Hawks -- Matt Brown -- suffered a badly broken finger in the third quarter, but Griffith commended him, saying, "he didn't drop the ball."

The Red Hawks will be playing without the services of tight end/defensive end Joel Johnson who suffered an injury in hockey.

"It was a real team effort," Griffith said. "We're all looking forward to a rematch against Crestwood."

The Red Hawks were scheduled to take on the Mustangs at the Kenner Collegiate field in Peterborough Saturday. We will have the results of that encounter in next week's issue of The Times.

The Wednesday Night Over 35 Hockey League is back in action. Ben Manuge of Buckslide Construction scores on Minden Hearing's goalie Kevin Finch during the late game. This is a recreational league. They don't keep track of scores, until the playoffs.

Heartbreaker 1-0 loss ends Seniors' season

by Jerry Grozelle

High school sports are often unpredictable. Teams that are expected to breeze through the season to a championship sometimes find themselves wondering what happened when they fail to make the playoffs. And the opposite is sometimes the case.

This year's Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Senior Football team belongs in the latter category.

At the beginning of the season, coach Tim Davies admitted he would be working with a "green" team. The veterans on the team were scarce and the fact that there was no football in 1998 left him wondering how he and assistant coach Gary Brohman were going to mould the 1999 Senior team into a contender.

The coaching staff of the team must be given full marks for building a team that could go head to head with the best of them and the players deserve full marks for their determination and enthusiasm.

The combination resulted in the Senior Red Hawks competing in the Kawartha semifinal against the Crestwood Mustangs. The semifinal was held last Tuesday at the Mustangs' home field in Peterborough. Four days earlier, the Red Hawks played host to the Mustangs for the last game of the regular season. The Red Hawks won that encounter decisively, forcing the semifinal showdown between the same two teams.

Weather conditions were any football player's nightmare. The cold, steady rain made ball handling very difficult.

The final score of the game was very rare in football, with the Mustangs scoring a single point with a punt through the end zone. They managed to preserve that single point margin for the 1-0 win.

"The weather was so wet we only had 75 yards rushing and about 30 yards passing," Brohman said.

"The field conditions didn't play into our hands. If the weather conditions had been different it could have been a different outcome," Davies said. "We gave the Mustangs all they could handle."

He noted that the only real scoring opportunity the Red Hawks had was in the third quarter when they just missed picking up a single point that would have tied the game.

Crestwood, on the other hand, had an excellent opportunity to add six points. The Mustangs were first and three, but the Red Hawks mounted a phenomenal goal-line stand that hobbled the Mustangs.

Both coaches commented that the defensive play of both teams was outstanding, while the offense struggled.

Davies said the two teams were familiar with the strengths of the other and could anticipate the other's moves.

Brohman centered out defensive end Graham Schakelaar for playing an outstanding game.

"He has matured into an all star high school football player," Brohman said.

Both coaches said they were very proud of the team's accomplishments this season.

"The players and coaches are very happy with the season," Davies said.

"The coaching staff is very proud of the boys. The season ended up better than we expected."

"We may have lost 1-0 (in the semifinal), but the boys played their hearts out," Brohman said. "They are all winners. They played to the best of their ability."

Those young men should be very proud of their accomplishments over the season," Davies said.

Curling club has surprise visitor

by Sandy Cole

The club's first "Family and Friends" bonspiel was held Saturday, October 30. The event turned out to be a great success even though the power went out. Congratulations to the organizers and competitors alike for a job well done. The criterion for this spiel was to have two non-curlers on each team, so people could have the opportunity to try out the sport.

If you missed this chance to try curling you can get in on our next fun 'spiel, which is the "Business Persons" mixed 'spiel on February 5. This spiel is strictly for fun and the introduction to the sport of curling. You do not need any experience or curling background, just the will to try. For your efforts, you will have a pot luck dinner and there will be prizes for all! Hope to see you in February.

Our next bonspiel will be the Ladies "Shovel Into Winter" 'spiel held on Saturday, November 13. Come up and cheer on the gals!

An interesting occurrence happened on the evening of Tuesday, October 26. A 71 year-old gentleman by the name of Camille Villeneuve, from Chicoutimi, Quebec, stopped at our club. It seems that he is writing a book on curling and has been travelling from club to club trying to see how many different clubs he can curl in. He had made some arrangements at a number of different clubs and was travelling from Haliburton to Gravenhurst when he realized that Minden was very close. So, he thought he would stop in to see if he could get in on a game as he went by. Much to his delight, he found it was Men's night and the Minden fellows were happy to have him join in. Camille gave many thanks to: Harvey Kivela, who stepped down so Camille could take his place for the evening; to Howard Scott, who made such keen ice and gave him a Minden Curling Club pin; to president Cheryl Murdoch, who presented him with a Minden Curling hat; and to the teams he played with and played against for making him feel so welcome. Camille also gave many thanks to skip Bob Eaton, who's calling of the game made him think of the times he played Ed Werenick.

"Bob knows the game and he calls it well," Villeneuve said.

Being able to play in Minden with no advance notice really made this fellow's evening. Camille informed us that Minden was the 147th club he has curled in, and the team he played with were the 1,386th, 1,387th, and 1,388th partners that he has had. Camille took two pictures, (which he said he would send to us) and then was on his way to the next club on the list.

By the way, Camille and his team won that evening!

New fees for anglers and hunters

New fees for resident angling and hunting licences will provide more funds for fish and wildlife management. This applies to resident angling and hunting licences in effect beginning the year 2000.

The new fees will:

Generate new revenue for the Fish and Wildlife Special Purpose Account

Help Ontario keep pace with the latest technological advancements in the research, law enforcement and customer service aspects of resource management

Make Ontario's hunting and fishing fees more comparable with other North American jurisdictions

Introduce the first change in resident angling and hunting licence fees since 1993.

Only residents of Ontario and other Canadian provinces qualify to buy resident angling licences. Only residents of Ontario are eligible to buy resident hunting licences.

The Ontario Fish and Wildlife Advisory Board supports the fee schedule announced for the year 2000 licensing year.

Residents

Resident anglers and hunters who bought a three-year fishing licence and/or small game hunting licence which does not expire until December 31, 2000 or December 31, 2001, will not pay the new fees until these licences come up for renewal.

The new resident angling and hunting fees for the year 2000 (including GST and issuing fees) are:

The fee for 2000 Outdoors Card will be $6 (no change).

Fishing Licences

The annual resident fishing licence (for residents of Ontario and other Canadian provinces) will increase from $15 to $20. The annual Conservation Fishing Licence will increase from $7.50 to $12. The One-Day Fishing Licence will remain the same at $10.

Hunting Licences

The following hunting licences apply to residents of Ontario only.

The moose hunting licence will increase from $31 to $38.

Deer hunters will see their licence fees increase from $24 to $31.

The bear hunting licence will increase from $24 to $31.

The small game hunting licence will go from $10 to $16.

Wild turkey hunters will pay $20 for a licence, up from $16.50.

The farmer's deer hunting licence will increase from $16 to $19.

Dog Licence fees, for deer, moose and bear, will increase from $7.75 to $9.

Non-residents

There will be no changes to non-resident licence fees for the year 2000. Non-resident fishing and hunting licence fees were increased earlier this year.

Non-resident licence fees are significantly higher than the fees which apply to resident anglers and hunters as reflected in the following schedule:

- ♦ Non-resident annual fishing licence $55
- ♦ Annual conservation fishing licence $33
- ♦ Seven-day fishing licence $35
- ♦ Seven-day conservation fishing licence $21
- ♦ Great Lakes one-day fishing licence $14
- ♦ Moose hunting licence $300
- ♦ Deer Hunting $150
- ♦ Bear Hunting $150
- ♦ Small Game Hunting $75

Minden Tri-County Atoms tie Haliburton

The Minden Monarch Tri-County Atoms traveled to Haliburton on November 5 to face off against the Huskies. In the first two minutes of the game, Steven Kerr, Kyle Fry, Billy Kulas and Jake Ruddy set the pace with excellent shots, but J.D. Crowe, in net for Haliburton, was right on his game, denying the Minden forwards.

The Huskies picked up momentum in the second half of the first period, but Mackie Campbell and Derek Nesbitt successfully blocked the Haliburton advances.

Mike Fisher, in net for Minden, shut down the Haliburton power play in the dying minutes of the first, with an outstanding save on a breakaway.

Haliburton opened the scoring one minute into the second.

Nesbitt took a hit that resulted in a Minden power play, but the team still couldn't get one past the Huskies' netminder.

Minden continued to put the pressure on, with Tyler Box working to dig the puck out of the corner and Kelly Muir and Stephen Roome shutting down the Haliburton advances.

Jake Findeis opened the third, battling it out on the wing and nailing a pass to Jason Lougheed, who took the puck right into the Haliburton end but was, once again, beaten by Crowe.

Midway through the third, Zach Pierson and Billy Kulas set up Jake Ruddy who was able to find an opening and tie the game.

Minden goaltender Mike Toye preserved the tie with a perfect save in the last minute of the game.

Business Profile

Our Hometown

With the arrival of the first snowfall, thoughts quickly turn to the upcoming holiday season. With sparkling lights, beautifully decorated homes and the joy of sharing the festive season surrounded by the warmth, comfort and love of family and friends, Christmas is also a time to reflect and be thankful for the community in which we choose to live.

Living and working in Haliburton County, for many, is a dream come true. A community where people genuinely care about each other and are quick to offer a friendly nod or a cheery hello! A place where neighbours are our friends and are there to lend a helping hand when needed. A safe place to raise a family and put down roots.

Our Hometown - a place many of us are proud to call home!

With the changing of the seasons, many Haliburton County businesses struggle to survive. With the decrease in revenue when summer visitors leave the area, many business owners are forced to lay off staff in an effort to keep afloat during the lean months.

To ensure the prosperity and future growth of our community, we must all work together.

By shopping locally you are supporting these businesses, an important part of our hometown. They provide employment for our residents, the products and services we need, when we need them and lend financial support to important fundraisers like our hospitals building fund.

In addition, many businesses sponsor sporting activities such as hockey, baseball and curling, donate to our local churches and youth organizations and lend financial sponsorship to family events such as Canada Day, Haliburton County Fair, Minden Sled Dog Derby and Timbersport among others.

Moreover, local businesses take an active interest in the growth, future and welfare of our hometown and its residents.

Let's work together to support this vital part of our community. By shopping locally this Christmas, you will be helping to ensure the future of this great community we're all proud to call home!

Tanner Cowan scores five goals in 12-1 Tyke win over Ops

- submitted -

After a tough home opener on October 23 against a strong Mariposa team, the Minden Tykes travelled to Ops on Saturday, October 30 with great determination.

They were not disappointed on that day. From the opening faceoff, the Minden Tykes outskated the opposition.

Ashton Haley stormed the Ops end and scored at 2:56 of the first period. Right after the following faceoff, Alex Treharne skated in and scored for a 2-0 Minden lead. With the first frame almost at an end Treharne popped in his second of the game, during a flurry of activity in front of the Ops netminder.

The second period was equally profitable as the Minden team kept up the pressure. JJ Kerr and Brent Hicks came on strong, but were stopped by the Ops defense.

Michael Callaghan, playing a great defensive game, fired a perfect pass up to Tanner Cowan in the slot. Cowan tapped it in.

Ops provided some pressure, mounting a good rush to the Minden end that resulted in the lone goal on Alex Cray, who had, up to that point, stopped every Ops shot cold.

Minden continued the assault into the third, ending the game with a 12-1 victory. Tanner Cowan scored a total of five goals, Alex Treharne notched four and Ashton Haley added a hat trick. Assists went to Greg Clements and Brady Hicks. A great defensive game was played by Jeffrey Balcombe, Dylan Reynolds, Aaron Hilyer and Zach Harrison.

New fees to provide more funds for fish and wildlife management

Natural Resources Minister John Snobelen announced new fees for resident hunting and angling licences to provide more funding for fish and wildlife management.

"This new revenue will help us keep pace with the latest advancements in such areas as research, law enforcement and customer service," said Snobelen. "All revenues will go into the Fish and Wildlife Special Purpose Account and ensure effective management of Ontario's Fish and Wildlife resources for the future."

All fees, royalties and fines collected under the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Act go to the Special Purpose Account and are used exclusively for fish and wildlife management and for conservation projects. "Ontario's fishing and hunting licence fees have not changed since 1993," said Fish and Wildlife Advisory Board Chair Pat Kennedy. "Even with the new fees, these licences represent excellent value. The advisory board is in full support of this move to increase funding for essential resource management programs."

The Fish and Wildlife Advisory Board advises the minister on allocation of funds in the Special Purpose Account and helps set provincial fish and wildlife management priorities.

The new resident hunting and angling fees will generate more than $5 million annually in additional revenue for the management of fish and wildlife populations and their habitat. Fish and wildlife research and monitoring, enforcement involving flying patrols and canine units, fish stocking and the re-introduction of wild turkeys and elk are examples of programs that will benefit from increased revenues.

"Healthy and abundant fish and wildlife populations contribute to the quality of life in Ontario," said Snobelen. "The province supports Ontario's hunting and fishing heritage and is committed to effectively managing our fish and wildlife to provide Ontario residents with some of the finest fishing and hunting opportunities in the world."

The new fees apply to resident angling and hunting licences in effect beginning the year 2000.

Fenelon area men charged after conservation officer observed handguns in vehicle

The following report was compiled by the Victoria County detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Hallowe'en Antics in Victoria County

Victoria County OPP officers were all out in full force last week with several auxiliary officers and volunteers assisting.

A total of nine calls were received regarding egg, stone and onion throwing throughout the county. In one incident in Bethany, a window was broken by an egg.

In Bobcaygeon, at approximately 10 p.m., officers responded to the OPP sub-office, where several eggs had been thrown at the building. While en route to that call, two individuals, dressed in black, were seen running across a parking lot.

Officers took pursuit by foot into back yards of some residences and located the youths hiding.

James Godfrey, 18 of Fenelon Falls and Robert Obie, 18, of RR#3 Fenelon Falls were arrested and charged with trespassing under the Criminal Code and will appear in Lindsay court on November 25.

Weapons charges laid

On November 1, at about 9:30 a.m. officers were called to assist a conservation officer on Pinery Road in Somerville Township.

The conservation officer had observed a handgun in a vehicle, while speaking to two men. Both parties were arrested immediately concerning the ownership of the gun. Upon searching one of the males, another handgun was discovered. OPP officers arrived and continued the arrest and charged the males with various weapons offences.

Dennis Windover, 37 of Fenelon Falls was charged with careless use of a firearm, carrying a concealed weapon, possession of a restricted weapon, possession of a restricted weapon in a motor vehicle.

Eldon Windover, 56, of Fenelon Falls was charged with careless use of a firearm, carrying a concealed weapon, possession of a restricted weapon in a motor vehicle and possession of a restricted weapon in a place unauthorized.

Both parties were released and will appear in Lindsay court on November 25.

Motor vehicle accidents

With the first snow of the year, several accidents occurred on Victoria County roadways.

A total of 34 accidents were reported throughout the day on November 3.

The most serious was a fatal collision that took place just east of Oakwood. Unfortunately no further information can be given out due to the difficulty in notifying next of kin. Of the 33 other accidents that occurred, none of the occupants of the vehicles suffered any serious injuries.

Remembrance Day

Honouring the valiant efforts of Canadian veterans

They number nearly 1.75 million, and we remember their sacrifices each year on November 11th.

This year, for the last time in the twentieth century, Canadians from coast to coast will take a moment to pause, reflect and honour the sacrifices made by our brave and courageous veterans.

Men and women whose courage and valour through this century have, time and again, given force to our values and defined us in the world. In two terrible World Wars and Korea, they fought and died for love of their country. They understood that people everywhere must be able to live in freedom, freedom we cherish in Canada. Over 100,000 men and women gave their lives for us in far-away places that have become synonymous in the minds of Canadians with bravery, sadness and loss. Places like Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele, Ypres, Arras, Dieppe, the Liri Valley and Kapyong, are just a few of the sites where Canadians made a gallant stand.

From November 5th through 11th, Veterans' Week 1999 will offer Canadians a chance to think about the fathers, mothers, sons and daughters who served in the Army, the Air Force, the Navy, the Merchant Navy and with peacekeeping forces. Veterans' Week also gives us an opportunity to remember the women, men and children who remained at home during the battles, rallying to support war efforts in homes and schools, businesses, factories and voluntary service organizations all across the country.

From one end of Canada to the other, communities will be hosting events to mark Veterans' Week. On an individual level, there are many ways Canadians can get involved in Remembrance Day. They can attend commemorative ceremonies at the local cenotaph; watch the national Remembrance Day services on television; and wear poppy flowers - the international symbol of remembrance - in tribute to the men and women who sacrificed their lives for freedom. This year, to highlight the significance of November 11th as a Day of Remembrance, the Royal Canadian Legion - with the help of the federal government, through the Canada Millennium Partnership Program - is starting a new tradition. Beginning this year, the Legion will lead the nation in setting aside two minutes of silence in every village, town and city across Canada once the clock strikes 11. During that two minutes, trains, buses and cars will be urged to come to a halt; school children will be asked to stand at their desks, with heads bowed; office workers will turn off their phones, while stock markets, radio and television broadcasts will all come to a momentary pause. From coast to coast, Canadians will take part. They'll celebrate the valiant efforts of the veterans who defended our country. On the dawn of a new millennium, one thing is sure. It's safe to say that in the next century, Canadians will always remember the lessons of bravery that our veterans taught us in this one.

O'Reilly named Central Ontario Caucus chairman

John O'Reilly is pleased to announce that he has been re-elected Chairman of the Central Ontario Caucus.

He was re-elected by his caucus colleagues for the third straight year. John was the co-founder of the caucus and has been very instrumental in keeping the concerns of his constituents at the forefront within this group of MP's.

"It's an honour and a privilege that my colleagues are confident in the job that I have been doing. This caucus is very unique and so are the interests of the people in this region. This group explores and presents those ideas and differences to Ontario Caucus," stated O'Reilly.

Every year the chairs of each caucus have to be elected from the members. Central Ontario reports every week to Ontario on Wednesday mornings and in turn Ontario reports to National that same day.

"Constituents in this riding can rest assured that their concerns are being addressed each week. Their concerns and ideas help shape the policy that comes from the government," he stated.

Applefest a success

We're back! As we mentioned previously our ghostwriter was away for a few days. We missed chatting with you last week so we must catch up on our news. We enjoyed our Tea Party on October 21st with St. Anthony's hosting, and we thank them for coming. Jack and Ruth Worthington were with us once again the next morning. We always enjoy their entertainment. That afternoon when gathered at our Happy Hour we stamped our feet and clapped our hands to the music of the Grandfathers. That was fun! Over the weekend

Gord Kidd was here on Saturday with his guitar to entertain us and on Sunday we welcomed the Norland Hillbillies.

The last week of October began with a countryside drive to Fort Irwin via Harburn Road. It was a fun outing that was thoroughly enjoyed, thanks to all those involved. The following morning Reverend Wicks was here for our Chapel Service and that evening we welcomed "A Joyful Noise" to our home.

Our Pub Night that week was much enjoyed with the music of Don, Doris, Lloyd and Don. They certainly know how to entertain with good Ole Country Music. The Birthday Tea held on the 28th was hosted by the Haliburton Legion. We thank them for providing such great goodies.

The last Friday of October was our "Applefest". This was a great day as a few of us made apple desserts in the morning. Apple rolls by Edna Scott, apple pudding by Vera and Walter Stevens, fresh apple cake by Bessie Burke, apple dessert by Lilian Harrison and last but not least, apple-crisp by Roy Nichols. Roy stated that he had never baked before and is convinced that it is not just women's work. That afternoon we gathered in the auditorium to enjoy all this wonderful baking. First of all we joined in a quiz, all about apples. All the different varieties, the difference between "soft" and "hard" apples and how many ways you can cook them. Afterwards we sampled all the different dishes that had been made that morning. We had whipped cream and ice cream of course to accompany the delicious dishes. We were supposed to judge the best dessert, but we couldn't decide. We were so stuffed that we were lucky to have enough room for supper that night, they were all so delicious. It was one of the best afternoons we have had in a long time and we send our thanks to those involved.

Saturday was spent getting ready for Halloween. We put together 250 bags ready for the occasion and we were not disappointed. The children arrived here on Halloween Night and delighted us with their costumes. We enjoyed their company and we hope they enjoyed their treats. We had no problem getting rid of the 250 treat bags we had packaged.

November arrived and we welcomed the Salvation Army. Reverend Wicks was here for our Tuesday morning Chapel. We appreciate the Clergy spending time with us and send our thanks to them.

Last night the Norland Hillbillies were here for our Pub Night. It was much enjoyed and again we thank them for coming.

Today we are looking forward to the Haliburton Hookers who are scheduled to host our Tea Party. As we write this for you Edna Scott and Edith Russell are baking some goodies. Crisp oatmeal cookies and pumpkin loaf. The aroma coming from the kitchen is very tempting.

A few announcements before we sign off. A warm welcome to our newest resident, Irene Stickland, also we welcome Ann Bibby back to our nursing staff.

Happy birthday greetings go to Vera Barnhart who will be celebrating on November 14th. Enjoy your day Vera.

Just hot off a press - Resident/family night will be November 19th at 7:00 p.m. in the Hyland Crest auditorium, all families are welcome and we'll tell you more about it next week.

Our activity staff recently attended a conference of the Activity Professionals of Ontario (APO) in Niagara Falls. This was their annual conference and according to our staff over 400 were in attendance. They reported that the different workshops they were involved in were very informative. One of the topics discussed was in-house newsletters and two samples of Hyland Crest news were shown. It seems we don't do that badly a job. They also were impressed with our weekly column and the fact that residents have a hand in both these activities. It is nice to get a pat on the back once in a while.

Well, we have tooted our horn long enough, so for now we'll sign off and we'll see you next week. Take a few minutes to honor our veterans on November 11th.

NOW! WHO'S, 40 SISTER MARGO.

Happy Birthday Nov. 10/99

Your Big Brother and All

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4450)

Our first taste! Snow on the ground. Worry about icy roads. My cat would not go out to do his business. He stood at the door looking at the white stuff and turned on his heel and headed back to his comfy sleeping place. Of course he headed out later after the first shock, because he really doesn't like Kitty Litter. The report is that the air will warm so it was just a tease. There was a good feeling about it too I found. It felt good to get settled in, inside. That nesting, rather hibernating feeling was familiar and welcome. Never thought I would ever say that as I'm never thought of myself as a winter person. Wonders never cease.

The weather raises many issues. One of them is walking. The cold, the wind, the slippery sidewalks and roads do not appeal to many who walk regularly. The dilemma is solved. For the past seven years some keen folks have walked the halls of Archie Stouffer School every week day morning between 7:30 and 8:15 am. Some have started this year already. If you would like to join them please call Morris Duff who generously organizes this opportunity for fitness. His phone number is 286-6079 if you need more information.

As an aside, the afternoon that Morris brought over this item for the column, I had been talking to my past walking partner on the phone and she asked me if I was going to walk at the school as we had done. It feels like a message. A message to get out there. That old resistance is raising it's ugly head. Who will win?

Another weather issue is the first clue of the fast approaching Christmas season! The Minden United Church is holding its Christmas Luncheon, Bazaar and Bake Sale on Friday, November 12, this Friday at 11 a.m. The Bazaar is having a White Elephant Sale and there will be a lot of variety and lots of ideas for Christmas gifts. Adult Tickets are $4 and children are $2. Preschoolers are free.

The Norland Seniors' Bazaar and Bake Sale is happening on Saturday, November 13 from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. There is also a luncheon of sandwiches, squares etc., all you can eat, for $3. This event is held at the Norland Community Hall, right on Highway 35. So there is another opportunity to get out and enjoy a community function and maybe find some Christmas gifts!

Nell Misco and son Ken had an enjoyable visit in Chicago with her daughter and son-in-law.

We were lucky this year that the snow arrived after Hallowe'en and the kids got around in warm weather. There seemed to be more than usual this year (luckily I bought another big bag at the last minute as almost all of it was gone at the end of the night. Isn't it always a problem, as to how much to buy?) Very attentive parents either waited on the sidewalk or in the van/truck reminding the trick or treaters to say thank you if they temporarily forgot. In my day we went out alone, at very early ages, without parents, in a group of friends but that isn't possible now. What a shame. Still it is good to see them out in their fun costumes, having a good time. Hope there weren't too many sore tummies from too much candy.

SCORING NEWS

Stanhope Contract Bridge. "Ross Fletcher, your Bridge Score contributor, has added a lot of interest to our games at Stanhope Fire hall and for Library. Even people who do not play bridge have been reading his contributions trying to figure out what goes on there. And what goes on, is that we have a very enjoyable Tuesday afternoon each week. Those of us who desert to the south for the winter will miss those sessions, and we would like you to pass on our thanks to Ross." signed, Len and Mary McNeice. Ross really does do a lot to make the afternoon of Bridge a fun time. I enjoy receiving his reports and participating in the fun of writing them up. I know a lot of those "deserters" to the south keep up on the fun and the scores by receiving The Times down there.

Last week at Stanhope, no small slams were bid or made and the scores were the lowest of the Millennium! People wondered if everyone was still recovering from the Schlotter's bonanza the week before. Here are the winning scores; believe them or not. In third place was Pearl Foster with 3340; Muriel McIntosh in second with 4280 and in first, Dorothy Strype with 4410. In spite of these scores there were lots of laughs or maybe because of them.

Last Thursday at Echo Hills, playing Duplicate Bridge, Mayme Douglas and Vera Carnochan were first with 58%. Norma Crewson and Vic Mathews were second with 55% and Gladys Fajar and Helen McCracken were third with 54%.

The Friendship Club at St. Paul's last Monday afternoon, saw a small group out for Euchre, but again lots of fun was had by all. Irene Fuhr won Lone Hands. The High Scores were won by Gladys Wruth and Joyce Ritchie. Joyce won the 50/50 Draw.

Club 35, last Monday evening, playing Euchre, was another great gathering place. Ken Wallace, our trusty reporter, who we very rarely see listed here, won the 50/50 Draw. Stan Dutka won the Lone Hands. Helen Windsor and Paul Thompson were the takers of the High Scores. Barbara Gamble and Josie Cheeseman took the Lows. Garth Windsor took home the Baloney.

Lochlin played Euchre again last Tuesday evening. Bob Vick was Men's High and Orval Francis was Low. Audrey Vick was High Woman and May Hicks was Low. Harold Harvey won Lone Hands and Betty Curry won the 50/50 Draw.

At the Minden Legion on Thursday, October 28, playing Euchre, May Bradbury and Marcel Roussel won Most Lone Hands. Verna McDonald and Roy McDonald were the High Scorers and Pat Scadden and Gala Stamp were the Lows. John Mallon, and Marg McAfee (yeah!), won the Other Scores.

Cribbage, on Monday evening, November 1, at the Minden Legion saw Helen Cox, and Jean Scadden the High Scorers. The Draws were won by Grace Dixon, Elva Paisley, Pat Roussel and Pat Scadden.

Bid Euchre for Seniors at the Legion on Tuesday afternoon, November 2, had winners of Jack Chilton, Iris Taylor, Dorothy McElwain and Marcel Roussel. Marg McAfee (yeah) found the Hidden Score and Grace Dixon took the one and only Moonshot.

Isn't it great to see all the names of our citizenry out each week playing cards and participating in the fun and games. Especially good in these months. Wishing everyone another good week.

PROPOSAL TO SELL EXISTING CROWN LAND COTTAGE LOT ON 4 LAKES IN SHERBORNE & LIVINGSTONE TOWNSHIPS

The Ministry of Natural Resources is proposing to amend its Bracebridge District Land Use Guidelines to enable the sale of existing Crown land cottage lots on 4 lakes in the municipality of the Townships of Sherborne, McClintock, Livingstone, Lawrence and Nightingale, in Haliburton County.

Large numbers of Crown land cottage lots were created in Ontario over many decades. In 1974, the Crown stopped selling cottage lots in southern Ontario (i.e. south of the French and Mattawa River systems), including any existing, unsold lots. In 1983, MNR's Bracebridge District Land Use Guidelines (DLUGs) incorporated the provincial direction by including a commitment that:

"authorization will not be granted, nor will disposition of Crown lands be considered for... seasonal residential, rural residential, or remote cottage development".

A policy change by the provincial government earlier this year now provides for consideration of the sale of existing Crown Land cottage lots that are within registered plans of subdivision. The proposed amendment to the Bracebridge DLUGs would enable the sale of existing cottage lots in 8 Crown land plans of subdivision. These subdivisions were approved under the Planning Act between 1967 and 1970, but not all of the lots were sold before the Crown stopped selling lots in this part of the province. The plans of subdivision are located on:

- Clear Lake (just north of White Trout Bay of Kawagama Lake) in Sherborne Township;
- Crown Lake in Livingstone Township;
- Deer Lake in Sherborne Township; and
- Wolf Lake in Livingstone Township

Only lots that can be developed without significant negative environmental impacts, and that can support a Class 4 sewage system are being considered for sale. Furthermore, any lots to be sold must conform to the municipality's zoning standards. Where necessary to meet these standards, existing lots would be merged, resulting in potentially 53 lots for sale on the 4 lakes. Lots would be sold at market value.

It is proposed that the Bracebridge DLUGs would be amended through the addition of the following wording:

"An exception would be to sell certain existing Crown land cottage lots on Clear Lake and Deer Lake in Sherborne Township, and Crown Lake and Wolf Lake in Livingstone Township, in Haliburton County."

If you wish to provide comments about this proposal, please provide them in writing by Monday December 6, 1999 to:

No. 148

This week we break from our usual tradition of featuring a photograph from the area. Instead, we are featuring several local residents who were photographed while serving overseas during World War Two. During the war, soldiers stationed in Great Britain were offered rest and relaxation leaves in the countryside. Many Britons opened their homes and hearts to these servicemen, providing a quiet but brief, escape from the stresses of war. This photo shows Richard Hilyer of Kinmount, Ab Hilyer of Bobcaygeon and George Simmons Sr. of Irondale, along with naval personnel from Australia and New Zealand and their host at the community of Traquair, Peeblesshire, Scotland. Richard Hilyer not only enjoyed the holiday in the countryside, he fell in love with a local lass, Isa (Isabelle), and they married in 1945. Isa worked for the man who owned the cottage and met Richard at one of the dances held in the community. Her sister was also a war bride. Earlier this year the community of Traquair paid tribute to the many servicemen who had helped in the battle of Britain and passed through their small community. A plaque remembering the many servicemen who visited the community during the war was dedicated at the Traquair Kirk. Our thanks to Richard and Isa Hilyer for the loan of the photo and this story. REMEMBRANCE
DAY

In this last year of this century of wars. The Royal Canadian Legion invites you to participate in a special tribute to Canada's war dead. The "2 Minute Wave of Silence" is a Legion Millennium Event designed to enable Canadians to stand in silent tribute to those gallant men and women at 11 a.m. local time on 11 November. As the clock strikes 11 a.m. in the six time zones, take a short break to honour those whose minutes on this earth ended so early. The effect will be a "Wave of Silence" rolling from coast to coast. Join the wave and make this Remembrance Day a living memory for all who participate.

HOROSCOPES

Aries March 21/April 20

Don't be too outgoing when meeting a new business associate this week. He or she is shy and might be overwhelmed by your aggressive nature. Try to take it easy on him or her for a while. A loved one offers you some romantic advice. Take it, because it's sure to help your love life.

Taurus April 21/May 21

Work diligently to get what you want this week, Taurus. It's the only way to make any progress. However, don't tell those around you what your objective is, or they will try to put up roadblocks. Just keep quiet, and work hard. That's how you'll achieve your goal. Cancer plays an important role on Wednesday.

Gemini May 22/June 21

Don't pressure a loved one to make a decision early in the week, Gemini. You've asked a favor of this person; now, you have to let him or her decide what to do. Trying to force an answer only will hurt you in the long run. You just have to be patient. That special someone asks you an important question. Be honest with him or her.

Cancer June 22/July 22

A loved one tells you something important, Cancer. However, he or she tells you in confidence. So, don't spread this information around. Keep it to yourself.

You'll damage your close relationship with this person if you tell others. Virgo plays an important role late in the week.

Leo July 23/August 23

Don't let your pride get in the way of asking for help this week, Leo. You are in a difficult situation and can't get out of it on your own. Asking loved ones to help you out won't mean that you're weak. Everyone needs some assistance now and then. Besides, these people are always there for you.

Virgo Aug 24/Sept 22

Try not to be too critical of yourself when you make an honest mistake this week, Virgo. It doesn't cause any serious problems, and no one criticizes you for it. So, don't beat yourself up about it. Just work to rectify the situation, and move on. A loved one asks a favor of you. Do what you can for him or her.

Libra Sept 23/Oct 23

Don't be taken in by an acquaintance. He or she is trying to make some money off of you; don't let that happen. If you listen to what this person is saying, you'll realize that it's all fast talk. Tell him or her to buzz off.

Scorpio Oct 24/Nov 22

Don't let your ego show through in a business meeting on Thursday, Scorpio. You need to impress some very important people. Let them see your intelligence, not your vanity. That's your ticket to success. A close friend needs your help with a personal problem. Be there for him or her.

Sagittarius Nov 23/Dec 21

A former friend offers you an interesting proposition. While you're intrigued, don't get involved with this person. He or she isn't telling you everything there is to know. Besides, there's a reason why you're no longer close with this person. Don't forget about that.

Capricorn Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't get upset with a loved one who offers you some constructive criticism. He or she only is trying to help you. Instead of getting angry, listen to what this person has to say. It will be worth your effort. The person whom you've been seeing wants to intensify your relationship. Say yes, because this is what you want, too.

Aquarius Jan 21/Feb 18

Be realistic when it comes to your professional life, Aquarius. Don't bite off more than you can chew, because a lot of people are depending on you. Letting them down will hurt your chances of advancing your career. An acquaintance asks you out. Say yes, because it's sure to be a good time.

Pisces Feb 19/March 20

A family friend needs your help with a personal problem. Try to comfort him or her, and be supportive. However, don't get too involved. It only will cause a lot of problems for you. Sagittarius plays an important role late in the week.

How do you get on-line?

Firstly, you need a modem, and the computer you choose will probably have an adequate one built right in. The modem provides you with the ability to "dial into" or access, the Internet.

Then you need an Internet Provider. A provider is a "door" or "link" to the Internet. You "go through" the provider in order to gain access to the Net.

There are two kinds of Internet Providers: the large commercial providers like AOL and CompuServe and then there are Internet Service Providers (ISPs). ISPs are companies that provide access to the Net in return for a fee. Which way you choose to go is very much a matter of need and taste - so do some research to choose the provider and the fee structure that best suits the way you'll be using the Net. (NC)

Song birds and your morning fix

On a beautiful sunny morning, while you enjoy a leisurely brunch on the patio, the link between your cup of coffee and the lack of birdsong in the air may not automatically seem obvious. A connection has, however been made, by researchers at the Smithsonian Migratory Bird Center in Washington.

The warblers, thrushes, finches and flycatchers we tend to take for granted leave their North American breeding grounds each fall to winter in the warmer climes of Central America. Traditional coffee plantations provide the ideal environment

Clip and Save Recipe

Apple Cranberry Bread Pudding

Here's an updated version of a classic comfort dessert that deliciously pairs cranberries with crisp Ontario Apples. Serve warm with lemon sauce, Ontario Maple Syrup, vanilla ice cream or frozen yoghurt.

Preparation time: 15 minutes
Cooking time: 50-60 minutes
Serves: 6

Ingredients:
3 eggs, lightly beaten
2 cups (250mL) milk
1/2 cup (125mL) packed brown sugar
1/4 cup (50mL) butter, melted
1 tsp (5mL) vanilla
1 tsp (5mL) grated lemon peel
1 tsp (5mL) cinnamon
4 cups (1L) cubed stale French or egg bread
2 peeled, sliced Ontario Apples
3/4 cup (175mL) halved fresh or thawed Cranberries

In large bowl, whisk together eggs, milk, sugar, butter and vanilla. Stir in lemon peel and cinnamon. Stir in bread cubes; let stand 10 minutes or until bread is well moistened. Stir in diced apples and cranberries; pour into buttered 6-cup (1.5 L) baking dish. Bake in preheated 350°F (180°C) oven for 50 to 60 minutes or until puffed and set in centre. Serve warm.

Lemon Sauce:

Combine 1/4 cup (50mL) granulated sugar and 1 tbsp (15mL) cornstarch in medium microwaveable bowl. Gradually blend in 3/4 cup (175mL) milk. Microwave, uncovered, on High (100%) for 2 to 3 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens, stirring twice during cooking. Stir in 1 tbsp (15mL) butter until melted, then 2 tbsp (25mL) lemon juice and 1/2 tsp (2mL) grated lemon peel. Makes about 1 cup (250mL).

For many, many years. The Royal Canadian Legion has sponsored annual poster, Essay and Literary Contests that are open to all Canadian school children. The youths that participate in the contest assist the Legion in one of our primary goals - fostering the tradition of Remembrance amongst Canadians.

The contests are divided into three categories: Junior - grades 4, 5 and 6; Intermediate - grades 7, 8 and 9; and Senior - grades 10, 11, 12 and 13 if applicable. Initial judging takes place at the community level by volunteers at local Legion branches and the winning entries progress to judging at the Provincial level. The winning entries at this level are forwarded to Ottawa where they are judged and the National winners declared.

for these migrant birds; the coffee plants grow in the shade, surrounded by a wide variety of other trees and plants. Forty to fifty species of trees can be found within a few hectares on a coffee plantation. Not surprisingly this rich, biologically diverse habitat is home to many creatures, including insects, snakes, small bats, squirrels, even howler monkeys.

But like the tropical rainforests, this habitat is disappearing. More and more traditional coffee plantations are being converted into more intensive 'sun coffee' operations where up to 7,000 plants can be crammed into one hectare. This type of cultivation requires chemical fertilizers and pesticides, which can be damaging to the environment and to the health of the plantation workers.

Traditionally rich and diverse habitats of mixed tree and plant vegetation are torn out to increase the space available for intensive coffee production, and of course the species relying on them are suddenly made homeless. Although there are other factors involved, such as local forest fragmentation and the destruction of northern woodlands, ornithologists are certain that this widespread move towards intensive coffee production across Central America and the Caribbean is implicated in the significant decline in the population of bird species such as the Cape May warbler, the Tennessee warbler and the Baltimore Oriole.

By purchasing coffee grown on traditional tree shade coffee plantations Canadians can help to ensure the survival of South America's farmers and North American song birds. To buy or get more

National Intermediate First Place Poem

CAREFREE

by Jonathan Hoddenbagh
Meadow Lake, Saskatchewan

Hi! My name is Jon and I'm a typical teen growing up in Canada at the age of fourteen. But you could be Tom, Dick, Harry or Jane... it really doesn't matter-just insert your name.

My day is filled with the usual stuff: sports, music and school-nothing too tough. It think about girls and what I will wear and wonder what colour to colour my hair. My mom worries if my homework's done right and if I'll be home for dinner tonight. My dad wonders if the old car will survive one more year 'til I'm old enough to drive.

But for those growing up in the midst of a war, life isn't filled with small cares anymore. Their heartaches are heavy; their load is not light; their sleep is uneasy when they lay down at night.

Their minds are filled with dying and death and wondering when they'll draw their last breath. Their parents aren't picking them up from the mall- they're wondering if their son will come home at all.

Is he scared, hungry, hurting - does he have a true friend who will stand close beside him right up to the end? You see, those are the things that concern you when war is the demon who comes and knocks at the door.

So THANK-YOU to those who sacrificed their youth that I might grow up in freedom and truth- and to those moms and dads whose kids went to war, my worries are small because of the burdens you bore.

Bruno & Alice

Episode Eight

Back flip onto wet grass

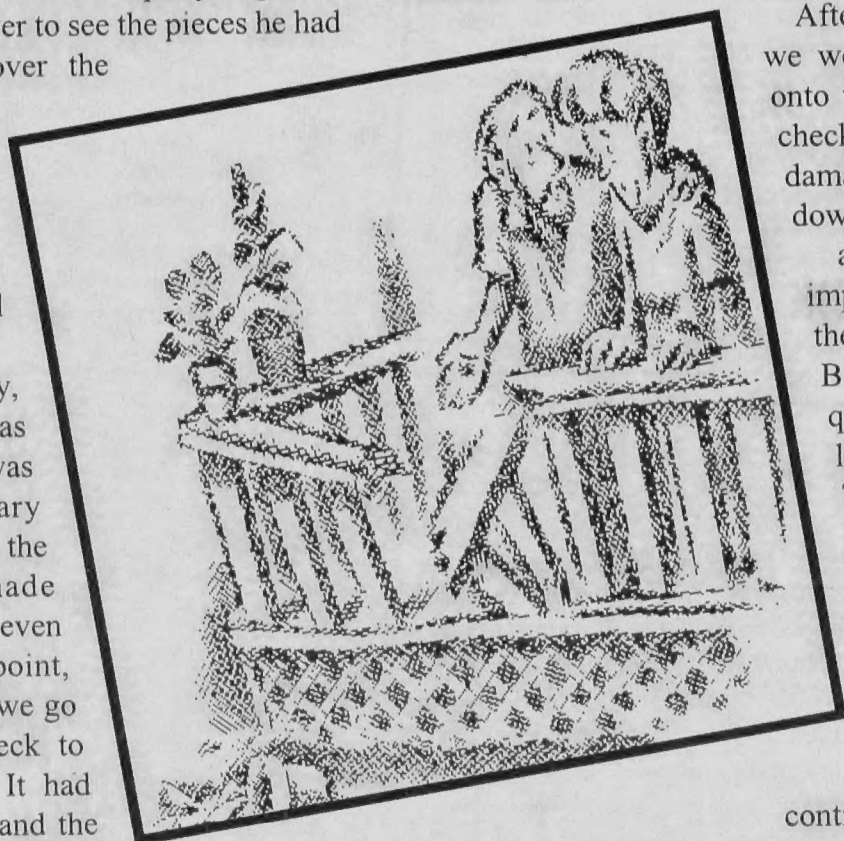

My friend Bruno is a sculptor. This March, when the forecast was for three warm, sunny days in a row, Bruno decided to throw a small party to get his family and friends over to see the pieces he had been working on over the winter. He puts on an event like this once or twice a year. It gives him a chance to sell his art, make a little cash, and see all his friends.

The day of the party, Bruno's place was packed. Everyone was very complimentary about his work, and the fine weather made everything seem even nicer. At one point, someone suggested we go out on the back deck to enjoy the warmth. It had been a long winter and the sun felt great. Bruno's daughter was out there with us. But she took one look at the deck and said "Dad, this old deck isn't getting any sturdier."

Bruno who, quite wrongly, fancies himself a handyman, waved her off by saying "Rock solid. Two-by-ten joists every twelve inches. It'll never budge."

Never tempt the gods. As though on cue, the railing which a couple had leaned against gave way, and they both fell backwards into a cold marsh of soupy wet grass. They weren't hurt, but they sure made a fuss about their clothes! Bruno's daughter got immediate permission to find a builder and make proper repairs. The incident was over.

After the party, we went back out onto the deck and checked out the damage. Looking down at the impressions in the wet grass, Bruno was quiet for the longest time. Then he turned to me and said "That could have been us."

will be the last Remembrance Day of the 20th Century.

Living in Canada, it is easy to forget that this century has been the most violent period in human history. More than 1.4 million young Canadians have volunteered to serve in our military and merchant navy and more than 116,000 have given their lives.

As a special tribute, the Royal Canadian Legion is asking all Canadian to pause for 2 minutes at 11:00 a.m. on Remembrance Day. Radio and TV signals will stop, shops and schools, factories and farms will be still. The silence will sweep across Canada like a wave as the clock strikes 11:00 in each time zone.

Be part of it. Join co-workers, friends and family, and take two minutes to think about war, about peace, and about those who gave up everything for us.
